The American College of Psychiatrists

SUMMER 2026

From the President

Dear Colleagues,

I am honored to write my first newsletter column as President of The American College of Psychiatrists. At our Annual Meeting in Naples, Florida, this past February, I had the privilege of succeeding Marcy Verduin, whose leadership and dedication have strengthened The College in countless ways. I am grateful for her service and look forward to building upon the strong foundation she has helped create.

My own connection with The College began when I became a Member in 2007: I found that so many colleagues and friends were already Members! Since that time, my involvement with The College has been among the most professionally and personally gratifying experiences of my career. I attended my first Annual Meeting as a Member in Kauai, Hawaii, in 2008, and I quickly discovered what so many of us value about this organization: the opportunity to learn from distinguished colleagues, engage in thoughtful discussion, develop lasting friendships, and contribute to the future of our profession. Over the years, The College has continued to provide a unique environment that fosters both professional growth and meaningful collegial connections.

The 2026 Annual Meeting in Naples was truly outstanding. Program Chair Bob Boland and Past President Marcy Verduin, together with the Scientific Program Committee, assembled a fantastic program that brought together a wide range of speakers and topics. Everything aligned to create an enjoyable, topical, and highly engaging meeting. On behalf of all attendees, I extend my sincere appreciation to everyone whose hard work made the meeting such a success.

I would also like to congratulate the recipients of this year's poster awards. First Place was awarded to Laughlin Fellow Julio C. Nunes for his poster, "Expanding Access to Evidence-Based Treatments for Opioid Use Disorder: Global Lessons and U.S. Modeling Analysis." Second Place went to Laughlin Fellow Yang Jae Lee for "Multi-Modal Approaches to Reducing Mental Illness Stigma in Rural Uganda." Third Place was awarded to Laughlin Fellow Poojajeet Khaira for "Evolving Safety Education in Psychiatry: A Multi-Phase Curriculum to Enhance Resident Preparedness and Interdisciplinary Collaboration." Congratulations to all three awardees for their outstanding work and contributions to psychiatric education and research. Looking ahead, I have been working closely with Scientific Program Committee Chair Josepha Cheong and the Scientific Program Committee to develop the program for our 2027 Annual Meeting, which will be held at the beautiful Park Hyatt Aviara Resort in Carlsbad, California, in February 2027. The theme of the meeting will be "Leadership in Challenging Times."

The program is shaping up to be both timely and engaging. Planned presentations will address topics including government policy surrounding funding for research and care in vulnerable populations; the impact of current government policies on medical education, the lessons of King Lear and dementia; the life and music of Johnny Cash—whose story, fittingly, has strong connections to California; the portrayal of medicine in popular media; and the relationship between artificial intelligence and academic career productivity. Educational courses will cover addiction; advocacy and how to craft an effective message on behalf of those with mental illness; artificial intelligence in clinical care, research, and educational workflows; and neuromodulation. In addition, our interest groups will explore a variety of topics, ranging from social connectedness and telehealth to humanities through the lens of psychiatry, among many others. We look forward to sharing additional details as the program continues to develop.

Membership remains critical to the success of The College, and I am pleased that our membership continues to be strong. At the recent Annual Meeting, 41 New Members were welcomed into The College, and seven current Members were elevated to Fellowship status. We congratulate each of these individuals and thank them for their commitment to advancing the mission and values of The College.

As I begin my term as President, I want you to know that I am eager to enhance the experience of College Members and to help ensure that The College continues to meet the evolving needs of our profession. I welcome your ideas, suggestions, and feedback, and I encourage you not to hesitate to reach out.

Thank you for your ongoing support of The American College of Psychiatrists. I wish all of you an enjoyable and restorative remainder of the summer, and I look forward to seeing many of you in Carlsbad next February.

Warm regards,

Joan M. Anzia, MD

President, The American College of Psychiatrists

From the Executive Director

I'm writing to you from The College's new headquarters on Michigan Avenue in Chicago. After 10 years in our previous space, we recently downsized and moved just two blocks south. While the staff and I no longer have individual offices, we've traded them for panoramic views of Millennium Park, Anish Kapoor's Cloud Gate, better known as "The Bean," and the Crown Fountains. Best of all, our new location has nearly cut our monthly rent in half, resulting in substantial savings over the course of our two-year lease.

The move isn't the only change underway at The College. At our February Annual Meeting, the membership overwhelmingly approved a series of amendments to the Bylaws recommended by the Board of Regents. Many of these updates were housekeeping measures designed to align the Bylaws with our current practices, while others represent more significant changes.

One important amendment gives The College the ability to engage in advocacy when doing so is consistent with our mission and has the approval of at least two-thirds of the full Board of Regents. Before proposing this change, we confirmed with our legal counsel that it would not jeopardize The College's tax-exempt status.

Another change establishes a Committee on Committees, which will advise the President-Elect on appointments to The College's various committees and other organizational components. The goal is to bring greater consistency and thoughtfulness to the appointment process while creating opportunities for member engagement.

Perhaps the most significant amendment creates a new membership category for recent Laughlin and PRITE Fellows: Associate Membership. This category is designed to keep former Fellows connected to The College during the period before they become eligible for full membership. Associate Members will receive reduced dues and meeting registration fees for up to five years, making it easier for them to remain involved. At the end of that period, they will be encouraged to complete an abbreviated membership application to transition to full membership and continue their engagement with The College.

The Bylaws changes were just one step in putting The College's strategic plan into action. We will continue to look for new ways to strengthen the organization and enhance the membership experience for all Members and Fellows.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF PSYCHIATRISTS SELECTS NEW BOARD MEMBERS, OFFICERS

The American College of Psychiatrists has announced new Members of its Board of Regents and selected Board Officers. Members of the Board of Regents provide strategic leadership and oversight for the programs and future direction of The College.

Joan M. Anzia, MD: Joan Anzia has been elected President of The College. Dr. Anzia is Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Feinberg School of Medicine/ Northwestern University and the former Vice Chair of Education for the Department of Psychiatry and the Physician Health Liaison/Wellness Officer for Northwestern Memorial Hospital and Lurie Children's Hospital, as well as the former Psychiatry Residency Program Director for the Department. Dr. Anzia recently completed a six-year term on the ACGME Psychiatry Residency Review Committee. She is also the past Chair of the Board of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. She is currently a Director for the American Board of Family Medicine. Dr. Anzia is a graduate of Stanford University and the Stritch School of Medicine at Loyola University.

Donna M. Norris, MD: Donna Norris is now President-Elect of The College. Dr. Norris practices child, adolescent, family and forensic psychiatry in Wellesley, Massachusetts. She is a member of the faculty of Harvard Medical School and also serves as the Director of Initiatives in Diversity, Equity & Inclusion in the Department of Psychiatry at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Dr. Norris is currently Deputy Editor, American Psychiatric Publishing and a Distinguished Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association (APA). She served as that organization's first woman and first African American Speaker of the APA Assembly. Additional leadership roles include serving on the Massachusetts Board of Registration in Medicine, Director Emeritus of COVERYS, a medical liability insurance company, Past President of Massachusetts Psychiatric Society, and former faculty at Boston Children's Hospital Medical Center for over 30 years. Dr. Norris obtained her BA at Fisk University and her medical education at Ohio State University College of Medicine. She trained in adult psychiatry at Boston University and in child psychiatry at the Judge Baker Guidance Center/Boston Children's Hospital, Harvard Medical School.

Carol A. Bernstein, MD: Carol Bernstein has assumed the role of First Vice President of The College. Dr. Bernstein is Vice Chair for Professional Fulfillment and Senior Advisor for Faculty Development and Mentoring at Montefiore/Einstein in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences.

She is a member of the Action Collaborative on Clinician Wellbeing and Resilience of the National Academy of Medicine and has presented at more than 80 conferences and meetings. Dr. Bernstein completed medical school at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, and her psychiatric residency training at Columbia University and the New York State Psychiatric Institute.

Robert J. Boland, MD: Dr. Boland was elected Second Vice President of The College. He is the Chief of Staff and Senior Vice President at The Menninger Clinic in Houston, Texas. Dr. Boland is also a Vice-Chair of the Menninger Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences at Baylor College of Medicine (BCM) and the Brown Foundation Endowed Chair in Psychiatry at BCM. Before coming to Houston, he served as Vice-Chair of Education and Director of the psychiatry residency program at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, Massachusetts, and as an Associate Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. He is board-certified in psychiatry with expertise in medical education, consultation-liaison, and geriatric psychiatry. He is an alumnus of Georgetown University, where he earned his undergraduate and medical degrees. Dr. Boland has authored or co-authored over 100 publications and is a frequent speaker at grand rounds and national meetings. In addition, he is the co-editor of the Kaplan and Sadock series of textbooks and is the co-host of the Menninger Clinic's Mind Dive Podcast.

Elizabeth F. Kieff, MD: Elizabeth Kieff is co-founder of Emerging Health and Wellness, a private practice, faculty member of the MacLean Center for Clinical Medical Ethics, former Student Affairs Dean and former Director of Wellness Programs at the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. She developed and implemented a nationally recognized wellness curriculum for trainees and is an experienced facilitator who focuses on the value of play in maintaining an authentic self. Dr. Kieff specializes in the treatment of emerging adults and helps individuals with anxiety and OCD across the lifespan. Dr. Kieff received a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania and her medical degree from the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. She completed her residency at the University of Chicago and completed her fellowships in Clinical Medical Ethics and Medical Education at the University of Chicago.

Petros Levounis, MD, MA: Petros Levounis serves as Professor and Chair of the Department of Psychiatry and Associate Dean at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School. He is also the Chief of Service at University Hospital in Newark, New Jersey, and Director of the Northern New Jersey Medications for Addiction Treatment Center of Excellence. In 2022, he was elected as the 150th President of the American Psychiatric Association (APA). Dr. Levounis came to Rutgers from Columbia University where he served as Director of the Addiction Institute of New York. Dr. Levounis is a graduate of Stanford University, where he received his undergraduate degree. He completed his medical training at Stanford University School of Medicine and the Medical College of Pennsylvania. He also received an MA degree in sociology from Stanford. He trained in psychiatry at the New York State Psychiatric Institute of Columbia University, graduating with the National Institute of Mental Health Outstanding Resident Award, and went on to complete his fellowship in addiction psychiatry at New York University. Dr. Levounis has written 16 books, including self-help books, textbooks, and scientific treatises.
